

4 REVIEW OF THE THINGS DONE AND THOSE VOTED DOWN.

Never in the history of the Protestant Episcopal Church has there been a more harmonious General Convention than the Convention of 1880. Hands had been shaken across all the old ecclesiastical chasms which the disputes of former years had deepened and controversial hatreds buried. The ritualist quarrel which agitated the last General Convention had been laid to rest, and the motto of the Convention was "peace, mercy, and peace" that the Convention in the church of which the vanguard of the reformation had been the first to enter the building is deposited the record of the ecclesiastical sennae inflicted some years ago on that dogmatism for which the church had been so long and so justly famous. And it is further significant that, on motion of the Rev. Dr. Dix, a place of honor was voted to the senior Dr. Tait, whose voice was to occupy a seat on the right hand of the President.

A matter which came near making a breeze in the Convention was the proposition to create an advisory committee on the clergy, to be composed of laymen where the clergy complain that they have been treated unjustly. As it is now, the ecclesiastical courts are the sole arbiters of the clergy's conduct over the clergy, and from their decision there is no appeal. So too, a clergyman may go from one diocese to another with letters dimissory from his Bishop, and no one can refuse him admission, on account of any plague or personal opinion as to his heterodoxy or immorality. The resolution was rejected by a large majority. All sorts of arguments for and against the Appellate Court were presented. A prime principle was that the Church has no right to interfere with the civil rights of laymen. Two of the speakers got a little astray by saying that it was because of leaving such Appellate Courts that the Church had split asunder. The advocates of the proposed system urged the great injustice that might frequently result in the matters now before the civil courts, and the fallacy of the charge that the Episcopal Church is still without an Appellate

One of the most protracted series of discussion was in regard to proposed alterations in the Prayer Book and in the Lecternary. The Prayer Book was to be revised in accordance with the Revised Version of the Bible. The Scripture to be read as lessons in the regular services was to be selected from the Revised Version. It was objected that the wisdom of the Revised Version was not yet demonstrated, and that the Revised Version was not altogether perfect. In some cases the passages selected were too long. In others they were not long enough. It was also objected that the Revised Version was not yet generally accepted, and that it was not yet generally understood. It was also objected that the Revised Version was not yet generally accepted, and that it was not yet generally understood. It was also objected that the Revised Version was not yet generally accepted, and that it was not yet generally understood.

[illegible][illegible]

DR. EDWARD SEGUIN.
Simple Non-Religious Ceremonies Over the Body of a Famous Physician.

Dr. Edward Seguin died last Thursday, after a life of devotion to his profession. He was buried yesterday from the residence of Dr. E. C. Seguin, 41 West Twentieth street. There were no flowers about the plain oak coffin, and no religious services. Instead, members of his profession made brief addresses. The principal addresses were made by Drs. Simms and Wilbur, and by Dr. Brown of Bang, Mass. Among those who listened to the eulogies were Drs. Draper, Sargent, White, Kane, McBride, Smith, Edwards, Reed and Sargent, and others. Dr. Seguin was a specialist. He selected on," and "Medical Thermometry." The works have been published in series. At the time of his death he was President of the American Association of Medical Officers having charge of institutions for the education of idiots. The body was taken to Woodlawn Cemetery.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Matinee at the Academy—Miss Cary.
First Appearance.

On the whole, at the matinee at the Academy on Saturday an excellent representation of "Favorita" was given.

It was the occasion of the first appearance this season of Miss Cary, who showed plainly the result of her recent illness in an impaired quality of tone and great weakness of the middle register of her voice.

Mr. Marks Kats's challenge, which appeared in yesterday's Sun, to dance any man's polka dither for a sum of $25, and to take a 100-pound woman to the dance, is today getting a genuine Litchfield edge, without the aid of money thereby taken in full minute every tap of the foot. The challenge is being taken up by a number of the city's finest dancers, and the match is to take place tomorrow night at the Litchfield Hotel. For further particulars the above is all that is necessary to know. — John Maynard

Champion Amateur Tennis Player of America, 186 Pavlovsky, who has been defeated by a number of the city's finest tennis players, will play a match with a number of the city's finest tennis players, and the match is to take place tomorrow night at the Litchfield Hotel. For further particulars the above is all that is necessary to know. — John Maynard

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN:—Sir: I see in today's paper a challenge from Mark Kats saying that he will dance any man's polka dither for a sum of $25, and to take a 100-pound woman to the dance, and I will dance him for $25 or $50 and will take a 100-pound woman to the dance, and I will dance him for $25 or $50 and will take a 100-pound woman to the dance. — John Maynard

The Death of Daniel McManus.

Daniel McManus, for many years a well-known sportsman man in this city, died at his home, 137 East 128th street, last Saturday morning, in his 40th year. He was a member of the old volunteer fire companies, and was a member of the old volunteer fire companies, and was a member of the old volunteer fire companies. — John Maynard

THE REV. THOS. K. BEECHER'S CAN-VASS IN THE ELMIRA DISTRICT.

There is an arrangement in each county by which certain county officers of the former are to be supported by the latter in return for the Democrats' support on the election. The support of both parties in election is certain. It is a singular fact, however, that the Democrats in Chemung County, at least, are lukewarm in this support of the Democrats. It is explained by the existence of local differences in the party which are working to its detriment. The Democrats are not united. The organization states the Democrats of Chemung. The former function has the organization in the county. It is a fact that the Democrats of Chemung County. Democracy. His law partner, a young man named John S. Stinefield, is the Democratic candidate for district attorney. The leaders of the anti-Democratic old county are the support Stinefield. It was to get votes from him from the Greenbackers, the Old Democrats and the Democratic Unionists. The county was made.

the end of his month. Mr. Beecher's public addresses that he declared that Adam was entitled to recognition for his services to mankind by the erection of a monument to his memory. He estimated the cost of a statue of Adam at $10,000, and a monument to cost from $20,000 to $30,000 to be erected to Adam in this city.

After our dinner we went to the residence of a superior architect, and one of the best amateur astronomers in the United States. He is one of the best men in the city, and is very popular in the public schools. He does not approve of electioneering, and all the efforts he has made have been to educate the people, and he is distributing 50,000 copies of an address to the voters, the printing of which he superintended, and paid for himself. In this address he gives a list of the names of the men who are doing the duties of a Congressman. He announces that he is in entire accord with the principles laid out by the Republican party, and that, which, he says, is in nearly every man's mind.

public expense. When he returns with his peers from all over the land, your member should learn more of the country he could be staying at home and talking to people with his neighbors. Whenever by this means he can get a better knowledge of the country in which he and his provincial neighbors live, it will be his duty to vote accordingly. He should also get the latest and largest information. If his votes will appoint or displace his neighbors at home, it is their duty to be as graciously until he returns and makes his report.

Upon his return from Congress, your representative should go through the district on horseback, make inquiries of the people, and of the deeds and misdeeds, to answer all pertinent questions, and share with all who choose the whatever wisdom he may have gained in Congress.

"A Congressman's duty to the party who principles he approves is to endeavor by a

The reports that the wife of Mr. C. W. Ward had been taken to the hospital for a serious illness, and that she was expected to die, have been proven to be unfounded. The wife of Mr. Ward is now at home, and is expected to recover.

Why he Rejoices Because the Day of the Presidential Election is at Hand.
The approach of election day is peculiarly

The colored gentleman grazed at him a full minute, and then said, "Sho! was dere twins in de world?"

"But my name's Hagan, and not Hancock," Matthew observed.

The colored gentleman slapped on his hat and ran out without some confusion, but returned almost immediately, saying: "Nober was in gine in all my life. How old is yo', Gint?"

"About de same age as yo' ole boy," said the lucky dils ebenin' an' catch 'em for a stake."

Hagan gave him the figures, at 6 o'clock the crowd was jumped out in drawing the Kentucky jacks. The colored man ignored the fact he had formed a "rig" from the figures (5, 50, 65, 80) and saddled them. He had caught his stake.

Mr. Hagan has repeatedly been mistaken for Mr. Hancock by office seekers from the South. He has refused to give the net result the value of tickets received. — $490 the entrance. When the cabman went to his assistance he was unconscious, his skull being fractured. An ambulance was summoned, and he was conveyed to the hospital. He remained unconscious until his death.

Mr. Dupau, who was in his twenty-eighth year, was the son of Louis A. Dupau and Angeline, nee Dupont, both natives of France. A friend of Louis Napoleon, when the future Emperor of the French was rusticated in the provinces, he was present at the execution of the emperor after the coup d'Etat, and the Emperor renewed the intimacy. An aunt of Francis Dupau married the Emperor's brother, Prince Louis, and rising to the Empress Eugénie. She was a woman of more than ordinary beauty, and is a conspicuous figure in Winterhall, celebrated for her beauty. The Empress founded the Order of ladies of honor, The Baroness de Pierre fell with Eugénie to England, and was with her when she was exiled to the Channel Islands. Another aunt also married a Frenchman.

County, N. Y., in 1870. About 12 o'clock of a night in July of that year he aroused a neighbor's family and told them he had returned from home from the village about 10 o'clock. The lights in his house were out. As he entered the door he was attacked by two men. They dragged him into a barn and there he was held in confinement. When he recovered he found that he had been robbed. He said he had been in his house, and he was afraid his wife was murdered. The neighbor went with Croesly to his house. They found Mr. Croesly lying on the floor. He was dead. He had been killed. The neighbor went to the death. Croesly said that the house had been robbed also. No trace of the alleged perpetrators was found. The neighbor went to the life was insured. The circumstances attending the murder caused suspicion to rest on the neighbor. He was arrested and in jail. He was tried and was found guilty. He was hanged.

Source of Republican Money.

A new subscription for the Republican campaign fund was begun in Wall street the latter part of last week. It is in the hands of Hatch & Porter, and the National Bank, P. & Hatch, and other houses that are prominent in the government bond syndicates. Each of these houses has a list of subscribers, and it is estimated that is required of every prominent Republican a subscription for the fund. The list of liberal contributors is not published, but it is believed that the First National Bank's subscription to that fund is more than half of it.

"Huchupathu."

New York, county commission.

MORE THAN 60 PASSENGERS HURLE DOWN A STEEP HILL.

The outlook to the passengers was frightful, seemed that when the car rounded the curve it would plunge over the edge of the cliff and fall over to the bottom of the hill or down into a house that stood by the roadside. In either event there must have been some loss of life, for the car did not stop until it had reached the corner into Richmond terrace almost as if it was an express train travels, and jumping the tracks and rolled into the ditch and down the way. The car was instantly all but cut to two and virtually demolished. Broken glass and splinters of wood fairly covered the street. The stream of traffic from the collision was speedily attracted a large throng.

Fortunately, the collision happened almost 100 feet from the intersection of the street with Pruzgnet Malloy was close at hand. The sufferers were extricated one at a time and carried to the hospital.

[illegible][illegible][illegible]

The market has been steady, but du Large operators seem to have been feeding every time there has been a demand for stor sin harvest is far from satisfactory. The prices for wheat and rye are said to touch "famine prices" in some of the interior districts. Rye, which is used for distillation into vodka, is especially high. Usually its price far below that of wheat, while this year it is at about the same price as wheat and even higher. In the districts of Poltava and Kozarska usually the most productive, wheat is selling on one rouble and ten copecks, the poor 30 pounds for about 30 cents; rye is fetching 100 cents for the bushel, and the poor 40 cents. "Happily the corn crop is very good, and will save many provinces from distress."

As a matter of course, animal food becomes dearer in almost geometrical progression with the increase of the price of breadgrains. Under

The fact that the failures for the first half of 1879 were only 2,497, with liabilities not exceeding $33,000,000, while the same period of the last year showed respectively $55,000,000 and $130,000,000. He says that the figures represent a prosperity hitherto unknown in this country. Just as good authorities, on the other hand, argue that the chances of making money during the next six months do not bear any comparison with the same chances of 1879. The gambling propensities of our people discount everything far ahead, and the future possibilities of making money seem to rest solely upon a slow and gradual absorption of goods and securities by the public.

This theory looks very plausible, if we keep in view the fact that retail stores of all kinds were a Parisian audience can scarcely catch even the way she says, is beyond understanding, far as the general public is concerned, Sarah Bernhardt might as well, in the words of Emma Ward, "be cussing the audience" as delivering the lines of Sardanio or Victor H. However, the great speculation of the week in Sarah Bernhardt tickets, but whether it turn out to be a wildcat or a solid speculator remains to be seen. RHO.

[illegible]

Election Day Sports on Long Island.

The Long Island Overland Club, Leonard Russell of Williamsburg, President, will have their annual "fox and hound" chase to-morrow. About 100 members are expected to participate and the start will be made at 10 o'clock. The route will be from the city to the country, and the finish at the Long Island Overland Club. The race will be a 100-mile race, and the winner will receive a prize of $100. The race will be a 100-mile race, and the winner will receive a prize of $100. The race will be a 100-mile race, and the winner will receive a prize of $100.

BONDS AND OTHER SECURITIES STOLEN AND THEN RETURNED.

Getting Out of De Golyer Pavement.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Lieut. F. W. Green, United States Engineer Corps, Assistant Engineer of District, has submitted his annual report concerning streets and roads of the District of Columbia for the

Arrived—SUNDAY, Oct. 31.
84. Helvetia, Rogers, Liverpool Oct. 29, and Queenston
21st. 85. Circassia, Owenline, Glasgow Oct. 21, and Montreal
86. Bahama, Whitehead, Trinidad Oct. 13, and Dominica
20th. 87. E. C. Knight, Chibworth, Georgetown, D. C.
88. Manhattan, Kelley, Norfolk.
89. Glanville, Heare, Dublin.
90. Swansco, Conch, Richmond.
91. Mark Thomsen Kellor, Seale, London.
LEAVEN OCT. 31.
82. City of Brussels, from New York Oct. 21, at Queenston, en route for Liverpool.
83. City of New York, from New York Oct. 14, and as Silesia, to New York Oct. 19, at Hamburg.

Business Notices.

There have been many blunders this season, but none so serious as a Merchant to try to sell his goods at a profit, and then to find that he has sold them at a loss. The only way to avoid this is to sell at a profit, and then to find that he has sold them at a loss. The only way to avoid this is to sell at a profit, and then to find that he has sold them at a loss.

DIED.
BLAIR.—On Friday, Oct. 20, David Blair, in the 74th year of his age.
 The relatives and friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral on Monday, Nov. 1, at 2 P. M., from the residence of the widow, Mrs. J. Blair, 1411 Broadway, N. Y. City.
ELTON.—On Sunday, Oct. 20, Elton, a long and useful member of the Baptist Church of this city, in the 30th year of his age.
 The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from the residence of mother, 180 High St., Brooklyn, on Wednesday, Nov. 1, at 2 P. M.
 A large number of friends will be offered for the repose of soul, through the services of the Rev. C. C. Smith, at 11 o'clock.
KANE.—On Saturday, Oct. 30, Hannah T., wife of John Kane, in the 70th year of her age.
 The relatives and friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral from her late residence, 252 West 13th St., on Sunday, Nov. 1, at 2 P. M.
KEELAN.—On Saturday, Oct. 30, Ellen, the beloved wife of John Keelan, of the parish of St. John, of the town, Longwood, County Westmeath, Ireland, in the 65th year of her age.
 The relatives and friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral from the residence of the widow, Mrs. J. Keelan, 1411 Broadway, N. Y. City, on Monday, Nov. 1, at 2 P. M.

[illegible]